

Special issue:

“State of the Art”

Contemporary and Historical Perspectives on Theater Studies in Flanders

Guest Editor: Timmy De Laet

Contents

Restating/Resituating the “State of the Art” Timmy De Laet	3
Prospective Dreams of a Field to Come: The Emergence of Theater Studies in Flanders Luk Van den Dries	40
Border Crossing: A Comparative Look at Theater Studies in Flanders and Wallonia Karel Vanhaesebrouck	70
Old Quarrels, New Liaisons: On the Vexed Relationship between Theater Studies and Literary Studies Bart Philipsen	100
Dramaturgy in the Curriculum: On Fluctuating Functions, Dramaturgy as Research, and the Macro-Dramaturgy of the Social Christel Stalpaert	130
In Quest of the Humanities (Again): What We Can Learn from Research in the Arts Pascal Gielen and Nele Wynants	159

PORTFOLIO

My Metadrama: On the Function of Jargon, Language, and Discourse in my Work as a Theater Maker
Naomi Velissariou 188

A Conversation between Katie and Albert
Katie Vickers and Albert Quesada 213

REVIEWS

Ungoverning Dance: Contemporary European Theatre Dance and The Commons
Katarina Kleinschmidt 234

Singularities: Dance in the Age of Performance
Hetty Blades 242

Experiencing Liveness in Contemporary Performance:
Interdisciplinary Perspectives
Dan Ruppel 249